Hongkong, February 16th, 1888.

In the course of his reply to the address recently presented to him, Admiral Sir VESEY HAMILTON said :- " I would suggest organising your maguificent fleet of steam launches as a Naval Auxiliary Corps. Under proper guidance I feel sure that the zeal, ability, and intelligence of the younger members of your community will soon make up for any want of experience, judging from the only. opportunity I have had of reviewing a portion of your Naval Volunteers." Some years ago a Commission was appointed to report upon the possibility of forming a corps of naval volunteers in Hongkong, and subsequently a corps was formed, two or three for a time practices were held at intervals not very infrequent. No serious attempt was made, however, to popularise the corps, and if it still exists in name nothing is ever heard of it now. WILLIAMS V. DINNEN.

This case, which was adjourned in order to

About a week afterwards the plaintiff ealled and went downstairs with her husband and herself to look at the things. She advised plaintiff to sell the articles. He said that they would only fetch two or three dollars and that he would give them to witness. She accepted them. This occurred about two months before the boys came to live at her house. Plaintiff had made her a present of a piano and a pair of Japanese pictures. The boy Gravino remained with them a little over a month. Mr. Webber said he thought that from the evidence of Mr. and Mrs. Dinnen it was clear that the plaintiff had made a present of some of this furniture to them. The plaintiff had denied ever having been in the godown and making a present of these articles, but in addition to the evidence of the defendant and his wife disboy Gravino. He could hardly think that Mrs. Dinnon would go into the box and wilfully perjured herself for the sake of a few articles. Possibly Mr. Williams had since forgotten the circumstance. So far therefore as that was concerned that part of plaintiff's claim would be dismissed. There seemed to have been no specific arrangement as to the sum to be paid for the board of the younger boy, but it would be absurd to suppose that Mr. Dinnen would feed the boy and look after him for nothing. YOKOHAMA.

It is said that the Government have decided to shortly undertake the construction of the railway which is to run between Otsu and Nagahama along the castern shore of Lake Biwa. The necossary surrey has already been completed. As the result of the visit of Counts Ito and Oyama to the island of Oshima at the end of the year, the Jiji Shimpo hears that the Government, recognising the strategical importance of the island, have almost decided to station a garrison at Itsubu-mura, a village on the island, to construct a harbour on its southern side opposite the small islands Soven and Saneku, to place a harbour master's department at Higaho-komiyamura and to establish a Magazine at Nishi-boshimura. These steps though not positively decidod upon will be carried out scoper or later. The Jiji Shimpo says that it is contemplated to lay a cable direct from Tsuruga saki, a cape at the entrance to the Gulf of Tokyo, to Yokohama to enable the approach of vessels to be notified in Yokohuma in the gulf. This step. has been decided on because before the news of the approach of a steamer could be signalled from Kannon saki, the vessel had generally arrived in port, and because there was some lifficulty in laying a cable between Kamikomoto shima, a point further down the bay, and the mainland. It would seem from the Mainichi Shimbun that the Christian missionaries have lately reshow that defendant was merely the custodian of manner, spoke of Christianity as follows:- "To assist the speedy advancement of Japan we must introduce into our society as many of the elsments of Western civilization as possible. Politics as well as commerce must be conducted on western lines; and our religion. must also be that of western nations. It is, therefore, not only necessary to legally permit Christianity but also to afford it a certain amount of protection." Count Incure is credited with equally decided views as to the need for Christianity. Speaking to a company at hisresidence in Asabu, which included the Revs. C. S. Eby, G. F. Verbeck, E. R. Miller, and other foreign missionaries, the Count is reported to have said :- "Among the various elements which are required to complete the civilization of the Orient, Christianity is one of the most important. This is a true translation of the Viceroy's rescript. Lo Flua Lun. With regard to the Bank the following information is given :--

The contract referred to in this resoript provides for the establishment of a bank capitalized at $0.0.0.0000 taels. The bank will be permitted to coin money and issue legal tender notes up to the full limit of its capital. The bank agrees to lean the Government 3,000,000 tacks at the lowest rate of interest paid on any American Government loan, and the bank is also to negotiate all the loans of the Chinese Governmen for the purpose of building railroads or other publ works. Forther than this banking concession, which Browning Society, thinks that makes the syndleate a partner of the Chinese Govern. Therefore I grant special permission to Mr. de Mitkiewicz to select you for the purpose of raising a capital subscribed by Chinese and Americans to establish a Chinese American bank in Tiontsin, Shaughai and other ports. If this enterprise is completed the business of the bank will be very reliable. Chinese and commercial affairs being both benefited thereby Mr. de Mitkiewicz also informs me that he has already received your telegraphic despatch consenting to negotiate and start such an enterprise. Incoordingly appoint special high officials to deliberate with Mr. de Mitkiewicz twolve preliminary changes and one special one. After sanctioning the same I deliver them over to Mr. de Mitkiewicz to take home and consult with you. If you will be pleased to come the details and bylaws can be negotiated, the time for peration decided upon, and I will accord protection in every way. The trip of Mr. de Mitkiewicz has been a weary and labourious one. I fin ! December 20th last was the centenary of the waltz. The dance was first introduced, so the story goes, in an opera at Vienna December 20th, 1787, by one Vincent Martin. It became popular at ouce, and probably will continue to be so long as fiddlers scrape and man and women continue to class dancing in their list of amusements.

A sewing-machine of solid silver and enriched with sapphires was recently received by the Empress of Russia. It was a present from the Society for Promoting the Use of Russian Materials. The Czarina has taken great interest in this organization. Her enthusiasm, however, will not cause her to use the sawing machine in all probability.

The New Year's day issue of the San Francisco Chronicle consisted of 32 pages, containing 288 columns closely printed matter. On the front page of one of the sheets is a woodcut of the new offices of the Chronicle, which is a lofty building nine storeys high, with a central tower 200 feet in height. Journalistic enterprise, appears in the Golden State to meet with its reward.
